

CEO Tang, Behave Yourself Novel Chapter 9 To 10

Chapter 9

When he went to the bachelor apartment to look at the house, he understood that the real estate agent had rented the apartment after contracting and renovating it. When he went to the bachelor apartment to look at the house, he understood that the real estate agent had rented the apartment after contracting and renovating it.

The apartment was decorated simply in Europe and the United States. The furniture was also well-equipped, allowing them to move in with their bags. Because of this, the rent was relatively high.

A small duplex of 45 square meters required a rent of more than 4,000 yuan per month, not to mention the cost of hydropower, coal, internet, property management and so on. With all the miscellaneous expenses added together, it would take at least a little over 5000 yuan per month, but there was one thing that was good, because it was an intermediary for one's own house, so there was no need to pay any more fees.

She only spent twenty thousand yuan per month on her script, and the rent alone was already a quarter of it. Normally, she still needed to eat, so she wouldn't be able to save up much money, but now that she had followed the intermediary for so many roads, it didn't seem right to say that she didn't want to go there.

As she looked at the agent who was still introducing her to the situation of the house, she thought to herself that at worst, when she got there, she would go all out to find the problem and ask the agent to find a cheaper one for her.

Warmth had never expected that she would change completely after half an hour since she had just made up her mind. The layout and location of the apartment really met her requirements.

In the end, she hardened her heart and finally signed her name on the lease agreement. When she just got the contract and the key, Nikki felt her blood boiling. She really wanted to rush over to the Yi family to buy decorations and dress up her little house.

However, when Nikki transferred a total of seventeen thousand yuan from her three month rent and a month's deposit to the agent's account through her phone, she felt like her heart was bleeding.

When she paid the money, her heart ached to death. But at night, when she stood at the entrance, looking at how spotlessly clean she was and how she spent an entire afternoon cleaning the house, she felt a rock that had been pressing down on her heart finally drop to the ground.

Although this single apartment was small, it was the place where she settled down in the city. Although it was rented, living there made her feel more at ease than living in her so-called 'home'. At the very least, no one here would bother to drive her away.

However, the perspiration all over her body made her extremely uncomfortable. She sat on the sofa for a while, and when she finally recovered some strength, she stood up, took out a pair of pajamas from her luggage, and went to the bathroom to wash up. After a while, she directly fell asleep on the bed.

"Warmth, what do you think of this person that Aunt Xie is talking about? Do you want to go see her first? Listening to Aunt Xie's words, don't stay at home all day and stay at home. Go out and meet more people. You're not the old Miss, so why are you hiding at home?"
"Listen to me ..."

www.onlinefreenovels.com

Xie Fang's lips, which were smeared with a large red lipstick, constantly opened and closed.

"Warm, a guest has arrived at your house?" A deep and slightly ancient voice came from the direction of the door.

"Dad!" You're back! Aunt Xie has been waiting here for you for a while!"

With a 'shua shua' sound, Su Qian stood up from the mahogany sofa and walked in front of Su Dong. He quickly took the shopping bag from Su Dong's hands and diligently brought the bag into the kitchen.

"Father Su, you're finally back. I'm here today to discuss a big matter with you!"

“What’s the big deal, I’ll have to trouble you to take care of it!” Su Dong smiled as he asked.

“It’s like this. Warmth her mother passed away early. As for me, as Warmth her mother’s best friend, Warmth her warmth is the same as a niece to me. Tell me, should I care about this niece’s marriage?”

Warmth stood in the kitchen, listening to the noises outside through a door. She was waiting for the two to start chatting so that she could sneak back to her room.

“You have someone you want to introduce to Warmth?” Su Dong’s voice was filled with anticipation.

“That’s right, listen to me. This guy’s family is quite well-off and does a pretty big business, with an annual income of at least two hundred thousand. He’s the only son of the family, and in the future, everything his parents leave behind will be his. If he marries this warm guy, he won’t need to do anything, he’ll just eat delicious food.”

“Such good conditions!” Su Dong Fang was overjoyed, and then asked, “How old is the guy? Warmer or smaller than our home?”

“About this, I am indeed a bit old, but if I’m not mistaken, your family is warm this year. You should be thirty years old, right?”

“Yes, in the new year, it would be thirty-one. Aiya ~ When I was this big, our Huanhuan was already born. Warm her up, aiya ~ ~”

“Don’t be too anxious, I’m here to introduce you guys to the warmth.”
“If you’re satisfied with this, you can get married after a few months of dating. Maybe, by the end of next year, you’ll be able to have a grandson with you, right?”

Hearing Xie Fang’s harsh laughter, Nikki could only feel her face filled with black lines. She quietly stuck her head out of the kitchen door, wanting to see what was going on in the living room. If no one noticed her, she could escape as soon as possible.

However, Su Wangyou’s luck was not good today. She had just stuck her head out when she was spotted by Xie Fang in the living room.

“It’s warm, ah. Come, come, come. Come sit by Aunt Xie’s side!”

Nikki could not refuse because this was both a guest and an elder. It would be rude to turn away, so she could only sit down next to Xie Fang.

“Continue talking to me, what’s the situation with this man? Just now, you said that the man’s age was a bit old, just how old is he?” Su Dong was worried in his heart, so he waited for Su Rou to sit down before he asked again.

“About this, the male partner is already 45 years old ~”

“Forty-five?!” “Then why aren’t you married yet?”

“Actually, the man was married once, but he was also unlucky enough to get a wife who he liked to play with. All he knew was that he would run out and play with her, that his husband and children would not take care of them, that they would not go home after losing all their money, that their relationship would be messy, and that they would end up going through a divorce for a wild man. Tell me, can my cousin still take this kind of woman?” “Well, he left six years ago. If it wasn’t for the fact that his son is about to go to middle school, it would be hard for him to marry if he didn’t marry her. He wouldn’t even think about it.”

“You said that the guy has a son who’s about to enter junior high?!”

www.onlinefreenovels.com

Chapter 10

“That’s right!” If you want to give birth to a son, you can give birth to one. If you don’t want to, my aunt will not say anything about it, don’t worry, as long as I am willing to marry, my aunt’s family will definitely treat you as a treasure! “

“Dad ~” Seeing that Su Dong had actually started to hesitate, Su Qingrou quickly called out softly.

However, Su Dong acted as if he had not heard Su He’s voice at all. After a moment of hesitation, he looked at Xie Fang with a smile.

“Sister, I’ll be troubling you with this matter. Thank you for helping me build a connection!”

“Dad ~!” Seeing that the matter had been settled, he hurriedly raised his voice and shouted again.

However, Su Dong did not pay any attention to Su Tong and instead went out while chatting and laughing with Xie Fang. Not long later, Su Dong brought an old and wretched looking middle-aged man to his house, and behind him followed a young boy who looked to be eleven or twelve years old.

“Warm, ah. This will be your husband from now on. You have to get along well with him!”

After finishing his words, Su Dong turned around and left, but the middle-aged man in front of him grabbed onto Su Tong’s wrist, and pulled his son over, “Son, quick, call your mother!”

Terror filled Su Wangyou’s eyes as he looked at the scene in front of him. He desperately tried to break free from the man’s hand, but he found that he was unable to do so.

“No, I’m not your wife, and I’m not your mother. Let me go! Someone, help! “AHH —”

She stared blankly at the TV cabinet in front of her for a long time. After a few minutes, she slowly realized that what happened just now was just her nightmare!

After last night’s cleaning, there was a small gap left in the window which she had forgotten to close. At this moment, a gust of cold wind blew in, causing her to feel a chill down her spine and her hands to break out in a cold sweat.

The first half of last night’s nightmare was simply too realistic, and the first half was simply a repeat of reality. Xie Fang had really introduced her to such a person, but the ending was different from the one in her dreams. In the end, her father refused her and sent her away, even throwing a tantrum.

At that time, Su Dong had been deeply moved, and felt that Su Dong was still considering for her sake. But she was not done being touched. The next sentence that Su Dong said made her heart turn cold.

Su Dong said, “Warmth, you’re still an ocean returning. If you find such a man, wouldn’t you be ashamed of it? I’d be ashamed of myself, but if someone found out, wouldn’t they laugh their teeth off and say that I spent so much money on you to study abroad? That Xie Fang, what kind of fragrant and smelly things is she?! “

After hearing this, he felt bitter in his heart, but he only said one sentence in the end, “Dad, I paid for the study abroad. Others say it’s me, not you!”

Nikki didn’t know what sort of expression Su Dong had on his face after she said that, because she had already turned around and returned to her room.

Thinking back to what happened not long ago, he felt a sense of annoyance.

He sat on the bed blankly for a while, then shook his head hard to get rid of all these negative emotions and quickly got up to change his clothes.

This apartment couldn’t be brightly lit. Since she was in a hurry yesterday, she didn’t have time to buy any kind of electric stove, pots and pans. Naturally, she would have to settle the matter outside for breakfast.

Before leaving the house, Nikki opened the window again to feel the temperature outside. Seeing that it was a bit cold, she took out a silk scarf from her suitcase and tied it around her neck.

Now that she lived alone and no one was going to bother her anymore, she was naturally happy to adjust her schedule back to working during the day, rest at night, and lead a normal life. After careful calculation, it seemed that in the two years since she had returned to her hometown, she had almost never seen the sun at seven or eight in the morning.

Walking out of the apartment, Sun Warm raised his head and looked at the rising sun. He could not help but raise his chin and slightly spread his hands, bathing in the sunlight as he breathed in the stale air of the city.

Freedom, she thought, smelling freedom.

Eight in the morning was the busiest time in the city. The streets of the morning were bustling with people of all colors. In such a fast paced city, almost no one had the time to look at the warm air as they looked up at the sky.

Occasionally, he would glance at it and softly mutter, “A ‘literary youth’ who has nothing to do!”

However, when the man sitting in the back of the black business car sped past her, his lips curled up slightly when he saw her. Two words came out from his thin lips, “Author ~”

From time to time, he would lift his head to look at the surrounding street scenery. According to the directions on the navigation system, he would circle several blocks and finally stop in front of a small and old breakfast shop.

The store was very small, and the kitchen that came with it simply couldn't hold all sorts of kitchenware. For convenience's sake, the shop owner moved a frying pan and a large mud oven that was used to make sesame seed cakes to the outside of the shop.

At this time, the owner of the shop was smacking his lips with fried dough sticks. When he saw Su Wen, who was holding a phone, looking inside, he quickly greeted, “Little girl, you're here to drink soy milk and fried dough sticks, right? “Go and sit inside, I'll send it over to you later!”

www.onlinefreenovels.com

“Okay.” Nikki grinned and responded quickly.

Entering the shop, only then did Nikki realize that this small shop was filled with all sorts of seats. There were old grandpas, grandpas, white-collar workers who were in a hurry to go to work, and even young girls with hot soy milk and youtiao who were not eating in front of them, who were patting the food on their phones.

Upon seeing this, Su Wangliang knew that these girls all saw the online recommendation and intentionally followed the navigation system.

Otherwise, with such an old residential area and such a narrow and simple store, these girls wouldn't have taken the initiative to enter.

Nikki noticed that there were two other seats beside a table on the wall. She hurriedly walked over and asked the two old men sitting at the back of the table, “Grandpa, Grandma, are there any people at these two seats?”

The old man was busy drinking soy milk and had no time to pay attention to Su Tong. However, the old lady opposite him smiled and said, “There’s no one here. Little girl, please take a seat!”

